$34,000 In Disaster Funds Sought By Warren; Gas Rates Discussed

An application for $34,666 in disaster relief funds was approved by the Warren borough council, Monday night, and will be forwarded to federal authorities by President Laskaris and Secretary Geracimos. The application was prepared by Engineer DeBell, with the help of Paul Revelle, who is in charge of the civil defense office in Warren, and other federal and state officials.

It is estimated that flood expenses, including emergency repairs, pumping, evacuation, debris clearance, sewer cleaning, West side stream dredging, dike work, gravel for washed-out streets and the airport runway, broken sewers, losses sustained by volunteer fire departments, and hours put in by borough employees and private citizens will total at least $56,953. Of this, $22,287 represents work that is not compensable.

More funds may be applied for later if other damage is found. This might be true in the case of bridges, damage to which will not be apparent until the water recedes.

GAS RATE INVESTIGATION

Councilman Johnson reported that constituents had asked if council were going to do something about the proposed Pennsylvania Gas Company increase. Councilman Carbon moved that the council join with other communities to investigate the facts involved in the proposed increase.

It finally was agreed to have Solicitor Knox Harper and the public service committee investigate utility rate increases and report back at the next meeting. The public service committee consists of Warren Miller, Pete Juliano, and Bernard Hetem.

AIRPORT PROBLEM

Councilman Yagge reported that the building and lands committee had received a letter from Einer Johnson, manager of the airport, asking Warren to terminate his lease in June. Mr. Yagge asked for a month to talk it over with Mr. Johnson before acting on the request.

A CANDIDATE FOR the office of executive vice president of the Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce is K. Earl Abel, Jr., of Warren. Currently serving as national director for the state, Abel has also served in many other state and local capacities. While president of the Warren chapter he succeeded in winning an Eyerman award for outstanding president. He was nominated to the office at a district meeting in Corry last Sunday.

FIRE PREVENTION CODE

Warren is denied the advantages of the fire prevention code which has been written by the underwriters because of the cost involved in passing such an ordinance. Even second class townships and third class cities can adopt this code and need do no more than write an ordinance which says it coincides with the wording of the code, and naming exceptions.

This is called adopting the code by reference. Inasmuch as the code involves over six hundred pages, the cost of legal printing would be prohibitive to a borough the size of Warren.

Solicitor Harper reported that he has asked Assemblyman Allen Gibson to introduce an amendment that will make it possible for a borough to adopt the code by reference. Assemblyman Gibson has promised to make such an effort.

MORE DAYLIGHT

Council resolved to advise Warren to abide by the daylight saving hours that have been adopted by most of the major cities and surrounding communities. To do otherwise would make it very difficult to conduct business. Daylight saving will start at 2 a. m., April 29, and will end at 2 a. m., October 28.

Councilman Juliano voted against the resolution on the basis that shop workers must get up in the dark. Councilman Torrance pointed out that the majority of us work to five and appreciate the additional evening hours.

AND ALSO

Council resolved to enter into an agreement with the Industrial Pipe Cleaning Co., of Buffalo, for the use of its equipment to clean our sanitary and storm sewers.

It voted to advertise the proposed sale of our 1923 American LaFrance fire truck, which has one of the best pumps in the area, but is weak on brakes. At least one Warren plant is interested and there may be others.

Stephen Pees was promoted to driver in the fire department, David Main was made temporary captain in the department until a civil service examination is held.

Robert J. Schmader was appointed probationary police patrolman, and Merritt Babcock's resignation from the police department was accepted, effective April 8. He also was nominated as a provisional hoseman in the fire department.

Which evens things up. Not long ago a fireman resigned to join the police.

Manager Geracimos expressed his appreciation for the help of Paul Revelle, who is in charge of the civil defense office which was established here to help with the flood situation. Mr. Revelle was introduced and stated that he claimed no credit. He said borough officials, Civil Defense Director Fuellhart, and Warren citizens had been very helpful. He hoped the federal engineers would agree to all items in the disaster application, and said he felt certain most of the request would be granted. He explained that the figures also would be checked by government auditors.

PRETTY! But four months is too much of the same.

THE SMALLEST TOTS had their own section to hunt for the prize eggs in the Sylvania Employees association's Easter Egg Hunt at the Lexington plant Saturday morning. A large crowd braved the chilly weather to take part in the annual event.

SPECKLED WITH EGGS was the Lexington plant lawn before the starting gun was fired in the Easter Egg Hunt Saturday at Sylvania. The event was sponsored by the company's employees association. It was only a matter of minutes before the youngsters made a clean sweep.

Is A Life Worth
The Airport Price?

Warren again is faced with the possibility of not having an airport. Though we do not believe such a port should be maintained to serve half dozen planes, we also doubt it is wise to close it completely.
Manager Einer Johnson has notified council that he wishes to terminate his lease in June. Apparently Mr. Johnson has received very little support from most of Warren's industry and from some Warren officials. The attitude of the community toward the port is not encouraging to him.
Meanwhile, some Warren industrialists are very much involved in an effort to obtain a large port in the vicinity of Lander. This, it is hoped, will serve large planes and will bring major air service to Warren, Corry, Jamestown, and other neighbors.
If this effort is successful it will not be culminated this year, and we doubt if such a port will be there to serve us next year, and maybe not the year after next. What does Warren do for a port in the meantime?
The attitude of some seems to be that we should let this one go back to weeds in hopes that it will help us get approval of the bigger one. This sounds a mite cold-blooded to us.

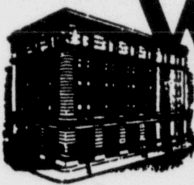

Perhaps Warren should not attempt a major operation on the present port, but we believe it can be at least maintained to serve emergencies. As Councilman Carbon has pointed out, if it is worth having an expensive aerial truck in our fire department on the chance that some day it will save a life, why is it not worth a couple thousand a year to maintain a port that may do the same.
We might need to fly a doctor in or a patient out. We might offer safety to a lost plane in heavy weather.
The port is there. We do not have to build it. We need only to maintain it, and in the minimum manner. Perhaps no more than an apartment tenant who will pump gasoline and turn on emergency lights.
We believe the money spent should be budgeted under the proper committee, and we doubt if it would exceed $2,000. Those runways would be in good shape if small annual amounts had been spent to maintain them.
If you never have been up there in the heavy soup, with the gasoline needle getting lower, and no field in sight, you can't fully appreciate the hope that lies in a flat field with smooth runways.
This is the air age. Helicopters will be dropping in here some day. Flight is on the increase. Why should a town, with a port smack within its borders, entirely give up its advantage?

In Brief

A CORONER'S JURY met at the Warren State hospital Tuesday night and closed the case in the double death of Mrs. Bertha R. Irwin, 46, and Harold A. Look, 52, last January. It was the final decision of the jury that Mrs. Irwin met her death from strangulation at the hands of Harold A. Look, who died from exposure after taking an overdose of sedatives.

Mrs. Irwin was found in the closet of a hospital apartment on February 4, while Look was discovered the previous day in a camp near the head of Morrison Run. The couple had expected to be married and it is believed a break in the romance caused the murder-suicide.

Coroner Ed C. Lowrey was in charge of the inquest and was assisted by Sheriff L. E. Linder, who headed the investigation.

TWO WARREN JAYCEES were nominated to run for state offices, when a district meeting was held in Corry last Sunday. K. Earl Abel, presently a national director, was nominated as a candidate for the office of executive vice president, and William Houston, local Jaycee vice president, the office of regional vice president. A large delegation of Warren Junior Chamber members were in attendance at the meeting.

PLANS WERE MADE for the May membership drive when members of the Children's Aid Society board of directors met Tuesday. Mrs. S. L. Myer, president, presided at the session. In discussing the coming drive, the board expressed the desire to have its representatives visit organizations in Warren County to explain further the work of the agency and to interest more people in its services. Support of the many services given the children can be shown through the purchase of a dollar membership in the Children's Aid Society.

NATURALIZATION COURT was conducted at the Warren County Court House Monday, when 11 Warren County residence took the oath to become citizens of the United States. The oath was administered to Eugenia Bianco, Flora Bianco, Ingeborg Robinson and Basil Boysak, Sheffield; Niels Gregersen, Helga Gregersen, Joseph Lodowski and Stefania Lodowski, Warren; Sachie Montgomery, Tidioute; Janina Gurdak, Spring Creek; and Raymunda Marques, North Warren.

SEVERAL WARREN AREA persons were named to offices and committees of the Bourne's Beach association at a meeting held Sunday. Delos Henry was elected vice president and director of the group, and Earl Ericson and Steven Rensma were named to the latter post also. REPORTING to the Chamber of Commerce board, promotion and publicity chairman David Fernow stated that the primary purpose of his committee this year will be to publicize Warren and Warren County not only in this area but throughout the country, to work with other Chamber committees in promoting their efforts and projects, and to inform the citizens of the area that the Chamber is working for the good of the whole region.

The Chamber board, after hearing Mr. Fernow's report on the broad activities of the Warren Boy Choir, approved a resolution that offered the commendation and support of the Chamber to that organization.

ON THE RECOMMENDATION of the state affairs committee, the Warren Chamber of Commerce board of directors has adopted a resolution urging Governor George Leader to allow the payment of $200 bonus to Pennsylvania school teachers in compliance with the already approved appropriation of $31,000,000.

Merle Kremer, committee chairman, informed the directors that the 31 million dollars was appropriated to provide $500 per teacher over the next two and one-half years, but that the Governor has stated he will not approve payment of the first $200 this year. It was pointed out that the existing problem locally and throughout the state is recruiting teachers.

Because of the low salary schedule, many graduates are going to other states for positions and others are leaving the profession entirely for financial reasons. Locally the school boards are having difficulties in filling a large amount of teacher vacancies that will exist the next term.

THE WARREN COUNTY Brucellosis Eradication committee started collecting for the semi-annual milk ring test in the county this week. The object of the test is to screen out or locate the herds which might have Brucellosis. It is conducted every six months. Herds that show a suspicious reaction to the ring test are then blood tested to find the cattle that are carrying the disease. All animals that show a positive reaction to the latter test are slaughtered. The state and federal governments pay indemnity on positive reactors.

He is a member of Alpha Tau Alpha, agriculture education honorary fraternity; Collegiate chapter of Future Farmers of America; agricultural student council, the Penn State Red Cross Society, and is also assistant track manager.

ELECTED PRESIDENT of the Industrial Management association for the ensuing year was Floyd W. Reed of Paramount Furniture Company. The election took place at the organization's annual meeting held in Corry Monday night. Other officers chosen were Cleon L. Douglas of Sylvania Electric Products, vice president; James J. Ryan of Struthers Wells Corp., recording secretary; and Ray N. Brink of Betts Machine Company, treasurer. Dan K. Walton, general secretary of the YMCA continues in the capacity of executive secretary of the association.

Following the group's meeting, a tour of the Corry-Jamestown Corp. was conducted.

A TWO-TRUCK ACCIDENT that happened at 7:40 a. m. Tuesday on Route 6 at Tiona, caused damage estimated at $3200 but resulted in no injuries. The mishap occurred when G. G. Helm of Tiona, turned left into a filling station when Paul Bush, Jr., of Ridgway, was attempting to pass the former. Of the damage, $3000 was inflicted to the Bush truck.

WHICH NATION IS THE CLEANEST IN THE WORLD?

NINETY-FIVE percent of the bath tubs in the world today are installed in American homes. That's an average of one tub to every eleven Americans. Compare this with the average for the rest of the world —one tub to every 1300—and you can readily see why our women enjoy their universal reputation for good grooming.

We'll admit that women in this country may find it easy to apply their simple beauty treatment of soap and water. American science and enterprise have made it possible for most folks here to have a constant supply of pure, sparkling water always on tap.

What's more, it's all for as little as 5¢ a day—the smallest item in Mrs. America's budget for NECESSITIES.

Hot Stove Registration Plans Are Completed

Every district was represented last evening when the Hot Stove league met in the YMCA for an important session. Complete plans for the registration of the boys were made, and all potential players are urged to read the schedule listed in the Sports Column, and to use the registration blanks which are being printed in both local papers.

Already forty-four sponsors have reported, and it is expected that even more than the fifty-seven of last season will want to back teams. Over eight hundred boys played in the circuits in 1955, and this year some communities that have asked to join Warren have been refused because of the lack of leaders, fields, and time.

Tony Tomasone reported that the fields are shaping up well and should be ready for action. The Thomas Coupling field has been added and will be used only for Hot Stove play.

The league also has purchased sixty duffle bags which will be distributed to the managers for hauling each team's equipment. President Carbon named Harry Wooster chairman of the scheduling committee and this group will swing into action immediately after registration and team organization work is completed.

The next meeting of the league will be held Wednesday, in the Warren YMCA at 7:30.

The registration dates will be April 16 and 17. These will be the only days on which boys can register. No late comers will be accepted.

The place and time for each area are listed in the Sports Column.

TEN MEMBERS of the Future Business Leaders of America will leave Warren Friday for Boiling Springs, where they will attend the annual FBLA convention Friday and Saturday. The delegates are (l. to r.) front row -- Carol Briggs, Margie Morrison, Patti Zaffino and Toulia Fanos; middle row -- Carolyn Snow, Gayle Nosel, Joann Compher and Mary Hughes; back row -- Morris Kintner. Beverly Lindsey was absent when the picture was taken.

STUDENTS REPRESENTING Warren high school's F.T.A. chapter at a workshop at Edinboro State Teachers college Saturday will be (l. to r.) Paul Brink, Marsha Rader and Merle Nosker. Mary Louise Chesnutt, who is not pictured, will also attend.

NEWLY WEDS. Marilyn Leave, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Leave, of 14 Mead ave., Warren, was married to Clifford Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Jenkins, of Kinzua, the evening of March 30, in St. Paul's Lutheran church. The couple will reside in Kinzua.

WARREN SPORTS BOOSTERS elected officers and directors Wednesday evening at a meeting held in the YMCA. Pictured here are (l. to r.) Harold Johnson, treasurer; Milton Dahler, vice president; Nick Wendelboe, Jr., president; Willis Lundahl, director and retiring president; and Jack Lutz, secretary. Not present were David Smith, corresponding secretary; John R. Logan and Robert H. Alexander, directors. The nominating committee consisted of Kermit Forsgren, chairman, Neil Culbertson and William E. Rice.

LESS THAN $100 damage was caused at 5 p. m. Saturday when Carmelo Vavala of 411 1/2 Laurel st., struck a vehicle operated by Carson A. Schell of 1 Wilson st. The former was backing into a parking space at the time.

AMONG 96 STUDENTS of the 10,967 undergraduates enrolled at the Pennsylvania State University to attain a perfect scholastic average for the fall semester was James S. Valone, of 504 Market st., Warren. He is a senior in education.

YEARBOOK EDITORS from several Warren area schools were among more than 100 students who attended a yearbook clinic at Allegheny College in Meadville last Thursday. They included, Youngsville - Jean Anderson and Nancy Stock, advisors Russell Duino and John Marshall; Tidioute Area Joint school - Trudy Fuelhart, Selma Huntington, Helen Hulings, Tom McManigle and Miss Felicia Passaro, advisor; Northern Area joint school at Sugar Grove - Nancy Kirby, Valene Gage, Barbara Anderson, Jackson Wilcox and Mrs. Pauline Norton, advisor.

The group discussed planning and content, layout, photography, artwork, copy, advertising and financing.

THE U. S. NAVY is now accepting applications from young men between 17 and 30 years of age who are high school graduates and desire to enlist under the Navy's high school graduate program. This also includes young men who graduate this semester. Applicants accepted for enlistment under this program will be enlisted in one of several special ratings and attend a service school upon completion of recruit indoctrination. For further information inquire at the local U. S. Navy recruiting station located in the Post Office building at Warren.

INVESTIGATION of eight burglaries that have occurred in the Chapman Dam area over the past couple weeks ended Monday when authorities arrested two local juveniles. The youths had caused considerable damage in breaking into the camps, from which they stole money, guns and ammunition. The arrests were made by Sheriff Larry E. Linder, Deputy Sheriff Donnel Allen and Pvt. Timmins of the State Police.

The camps molested belonged to Paul Arnold, Michael Bretz, William Piper, Blain Mead, Laring Leonhart and Kenneth Wilwoski. The owners were not immediately identified for camps named "This Is It" and "Green Camp".

The young men were turned over to the probation officer.

JAMES LUCIA of 308 Morrison st., was treated at Warren General hospital Wednesday evening after being struck by a car operated by William P. Taylor, 600 Henry st. The victim, who was riding a bicycle at the time, suffered brush burns to the face and a scalp laceration. The incident happened at 7:27 p. m. at the intersection of Fourth ave. and Market st.

Television and Radio

By John Crosby

We Had A Wide Choice

It was a wild, wild weekend on television -- the entertainment varying from the very large (Orson Welles in "Twentieth Century") to the very very small (puppets in Gilbert and Sullivan's "H.M.S. Pinafore") -- and the very small was a good deal better than the very large. It just goes to show you can't predict anything in this medium.

Just the same, I can't remember when the public has had such a rich variety of things to choose from to while away a snowy April day. Sunday afternoon, there was the NBC-TV opera "The Trial at Rouen." During the evening there was Jack Benny in one of his better shows with Giselle Mackenzie, who seems to spur Mr. Benny to new heights, followed by Noel Coward reciting Ogden Nash's verses to the music of Saint-Saens' "Grand Zoological Fantasy", followed by Judy Garland with a half hour of song. Each of these shows had its own special attraction; each was terribly different from the other; and each one demonstrated how television is developing in all of us a broadly catholic taste in entertainment.

I suppose I enjoyed the little DuMont puppet presentation the most because it was the most unexpected. "Pinafore" is one of the most wildly exaggerated of all the Gilbert and Sullivan spoofs, and puppets seem particularly appropriate to it. These puppets, designed and costumed by Paul Ashley, were marvellously expressive and agile -- a difficult feat considering the tremendously intricate rhymes Gilbert wrote for this operetta. The complete score, one of Sir Arthur Sullivan's most delightful, was sung by the d'Oyly Cart Opera Company, while spoken dialogue came live from the studio. It was a particularly splendid attraction for children and it just goes to show what a small budget and a lot of ingenuity can do. If the program is a success, DuMont plans to do other things of the same nature.

Probably the biggest disappointment of the weekend was "Twentieth Century". Orson Welles was a properly massive ham, which is what the part calls for, but Betty Grable seemed thoroughly out of place as the movie star he was trying to wheedle into a contract. As for Keenan Wynn's portrayal of Richard Maney, I infinitely prefer Mr. Maney's portrayal of himself. Still, we can't entirely blame the cast. The play itself after all these years has begun to creak badly at the hinges. A good deal of the elfin humor has become just elfin and not very humorous. And it seemed, by TV standards, to be interminable.

Noel Coward's recital of Ogden Nash's witty verses was a rather special delight that I'm not sure appealed to just everyone. I had heard this on records before and got rather hopelessly lost in Mr. Nash's complicated syntax, but with Coward right there in front of your eyes, it all seemed much easier. This is decidedly offbeat entertainment even for a concert hall, and I never thought I'd live to see it on a mass medium like TV.

Judy Garland's second television appearance was a thorough-going triumph. Miss Garland's talent and emotional problems are perpetually at war and one never knows which is going to win out. This time the talent won out decisively. It was a very simple show. Miss Garland announced she was a singer of songs and was just going to sing them, belting out "I Feel A Song Coming On", "I'll Come Back", "Last Night When We Were Young", "Life Is Just A Bowl Of Cherries", "Come Rain Or Come Shine", and "April Showers" with that overwhelming authority she has.

MAN THE WATER SKIS

Warren's 1956 track team may not have its spirits dampened, but its feet are another matter. The track on Beaty field has gone the way of too many municipal facilities in Warren this spring.

With an opening meet with Youngsville facing Warren on Friday (perhaps postponed) the boys have had few if any days when they could sharpen up on an outdoor track. Even when most of the field has been above board, some of the track has been awash.

The solution is the same as that which applies to any future construction of municipal facilities, such as schools. Why not move the track field to a dry spot? And what better place than the center of most sports activity, War Memorial field? Not only is it apt to be more dry than Beaty, but it also has seats to offer, and a gate to control admissions.

Why should we not charge for track events, and why shouldn't we have some of them on days when more people can enjoy them? A track is something that can be undone if future Memorial field plans do not include it, but unless the new high school site includes an athletic field with all accessories, Memorial field looks like our major sports center for many future years.

COLUMBIA NOT BIG ENOUGH

As the result of our small front page article last week in which we proposed that Warren avail itself of state aid to provide a public auditorium through additional seats in the new high school auditorium, we received one suggestion. It was proposed that we buy the Columbia theater.

Who would buy it and what would they use for money? And after they bought it what would they have in the way of seats that they don't already have in Beaty school? In fact, Beaty is much better.

We believe the Columbia has about 750 seats. And they are mighty uncomfortable. In addition, we already have a parking problem down town, which is one of the major reasons against the present high school, a half block from the Columbia.

If there are some arguments against our suggestion, they certainly are better than this.

To review a bit, we suggested that IF:

The state will pay for a full seating capacity of a high school, Warren will need about 1500 in a very few years.

The state plans call for about fifty per cent help to school districts.

The school board now is talking about limiting the school auditorium to one thousand seats.

Why not have a public drive and raise enough money to pay for another 250? The state would pay for another 250 and we would have an auditorium that would fully serve our school and the public, as any modern school should.

These are "IF'S". But they are not dreams that are far from fact. They can be adjusted to the situation as it develops. And no matter what the state eventually does in the way of help, at the very most Warren could have a public auditorium of 1500 seats for the price of adding 500 to the basic plan.

If the money is raised why should elected officials object? And if Warren wants a public auditorium, what easier way to obtain it?

TENNIS COMING BACK

There is a possibility that tennis may do a come-back in Warren, a development we would consider a major asset in the recreation field. With the Junior Chamber of Commerce about to add courts to the function of the Beaty ice rink, with the YMCA and Chamber of Commerce talking about a combination tennis court and parking lot, and with several individuals considering the construction of private courts, things for the racquet squad are improving.

We wonder if there is anyone left in town with sufficient know-how and wind to give the young people some help? What little tennis we have watched here for several years has been a sorry spectacle. It requires play with the best to develop performers in any field, and unless the young ones see, play with, and listen to capable courtmen they will not enjoy the full benefit of the game.

However, at the very least, it is a sport that takes young lungs into the fresh air, exposes faces to good sunlight, and provides running that demands condition. It also lends a little more variety to our sports program, with something for the girls that is lacking in our major activities in the Hot Stove baseball field.

Now a swimming pool and a public golf course, and we will be keeping pace with the American world.

Utility rates aren't the only costs going up. The Blue Cross also is increasing its price. The new rates will average 28 per cent higher than those now being paid, and will affect 1,900,000 people in Western Pennsylvania. However, the new rates do not apply to subscribers who are enrolled under contracts where rates and benefits are negotiated annually through employer and employee agreements.

For example, a group price for a family that now costs $4.95 will be $6.30 per month. Increased hospital expenses, resulting from higher hospital labor costs, are given as the reason behind the change.

TREE FARM CERTIFICATES have been earned by three Warren county residents. Bruce E. Ziegler, of R. D. 1, Tidioute, Marshall A. Danielson, and C. V. Pierce, of R. D. 2, Pittsfield, have been named by the Pennsylvania Tree Farm committee, says an industries release.

health inspectors are revealed in reports on the Warren flood of March 8. One hundred and four inspections were made of stores and 110 of homes. The borough and county received 440 pounds of chloride of lime from the state for disinfecting.

Indicative of losses suffered by stores are the days lost by three places, the Texas Lunch which was kept closed by health inspectors until March 22, the Cozy Corner which was closed until March 26, and the Castle Diner, closed until March 18.

TOO LATE TO MENTION last week was the announcement that H. W. Conarro, of Warren, has been named president of the Struthers and Wells Corp., succeeding John T. Dillon who has been elected chairman of the board.

TWO DEADLINES

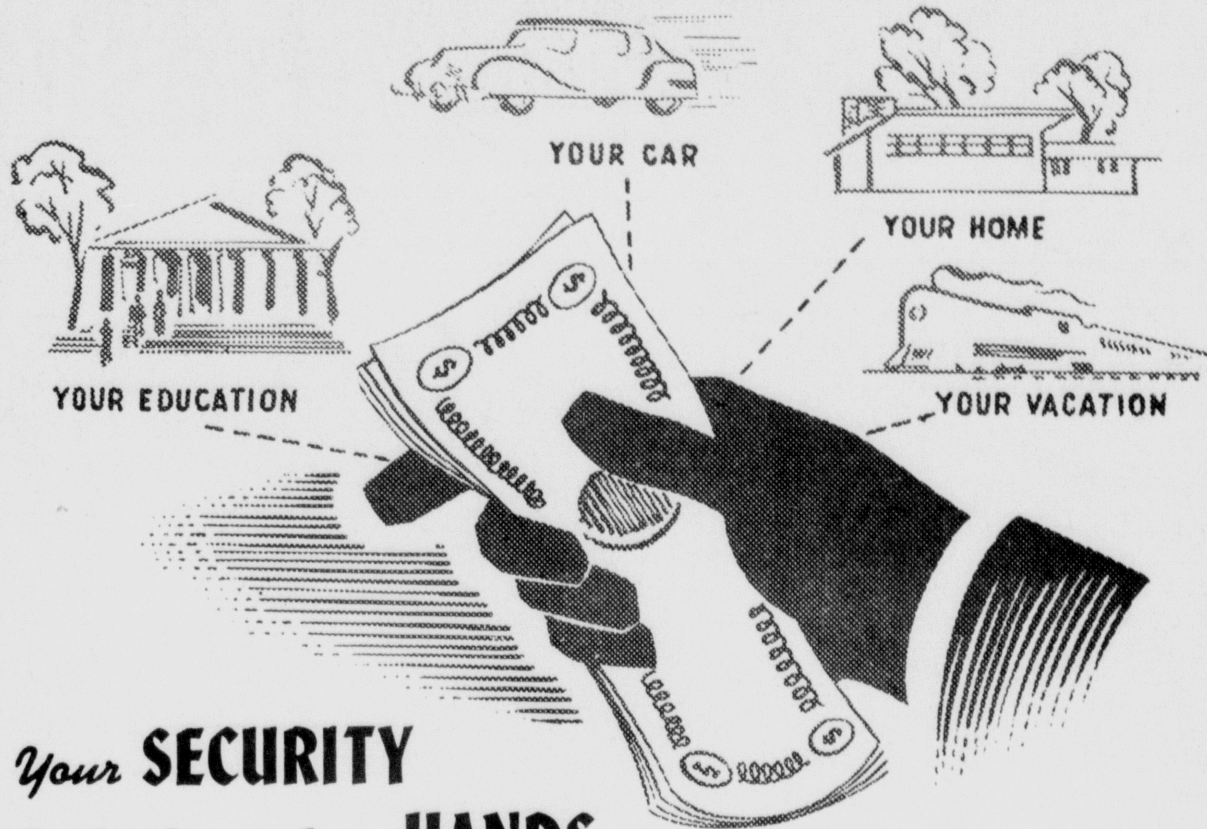

Next Monday is the deadline for the filing of two very important forms in your life. It of course is the last one for your income tax, but it also is the day when many must file their declarations of estimated tax for 1956. If you come under this heading you also must pay at least one-fourth of the estimated tax by April 16, and make similar payments on June 15, September 15, and January 15.

However, you don't have to worry about this unless you are self-employed, or if you are single and earn over $5,000, or married and make over $10,000. If you have any earnings other than those subject to withholding, perhaps you should check with the revenue office.

TOUGH SPOT

The Warren airport stands in a shaky spot. It lacks financial help from the borough. It lacks Chamber of Commerce support. It lacks the support of local industrialists. And there is an obvious undercurrent of opposition to its continuance.

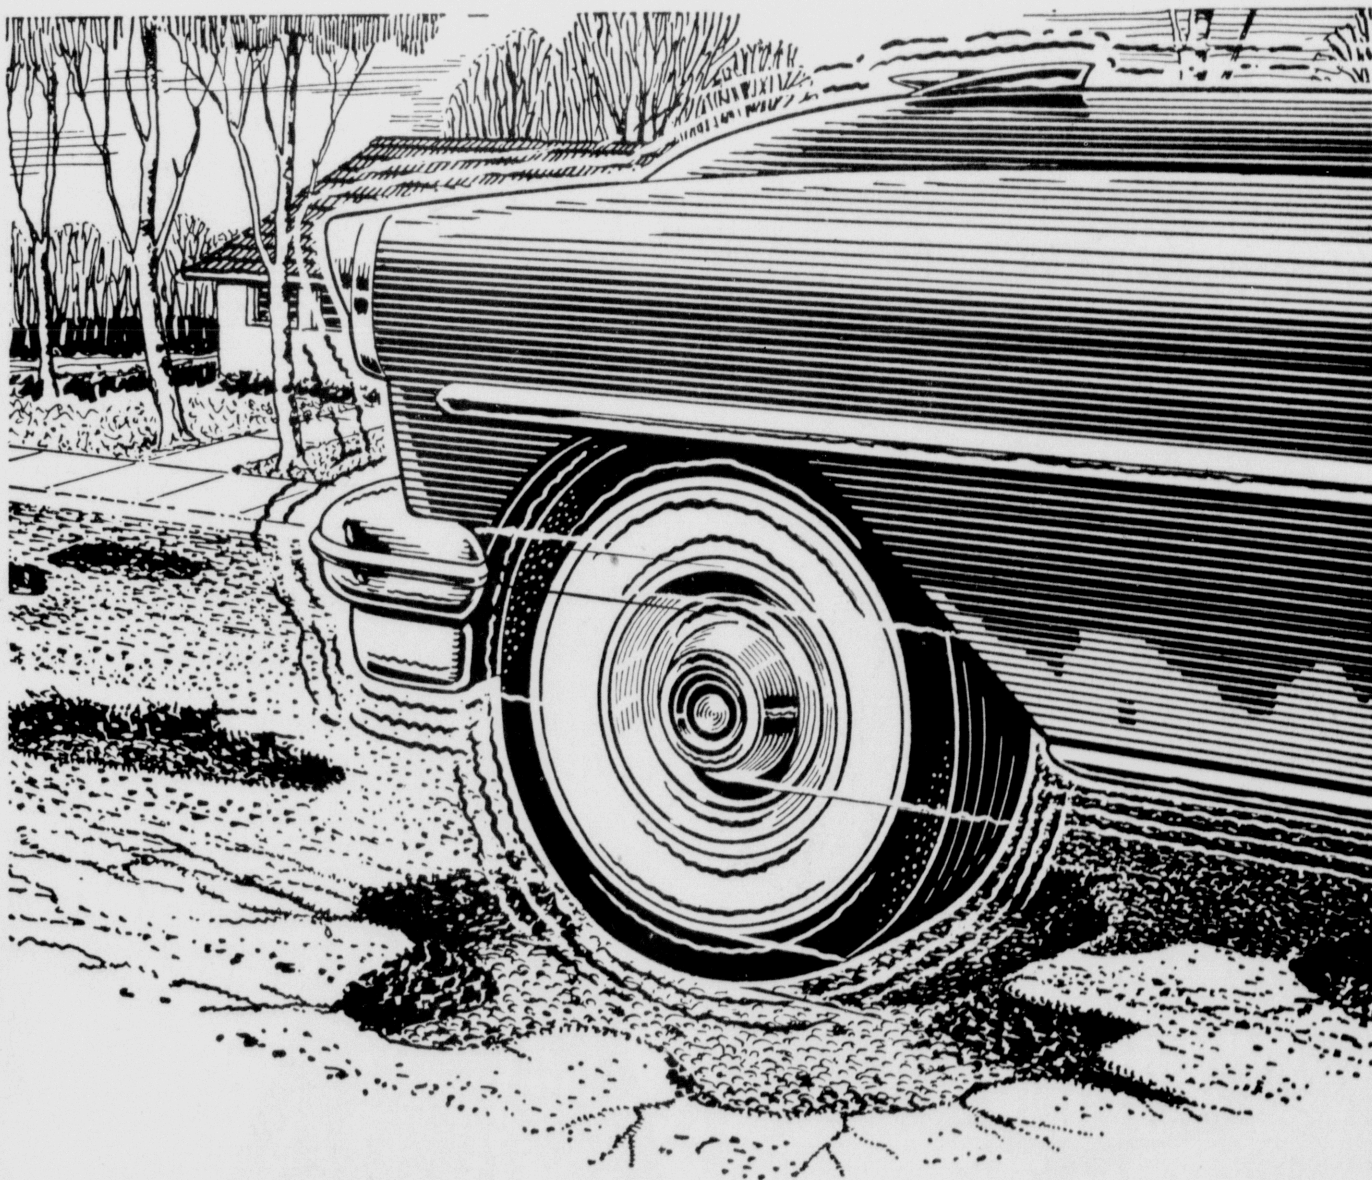

There are so few airports in this dangerous area of woods and mountains it seems an unwise step would be the complete elimination of such a facility. Until something better comes along, why not mow it, maintain the runways, and keep gasoline in the tank?

Your SECURITY Is In Your Own HANDS

Spring break-ups can break up cars and equipment — but not on all-weather Concrete Pavement

Concrete pavements are not subject to the ruts, bumps and chuckholes other types of pavement suffer due to Spring thawing. Cars driven over such broken roads can suffer severe damage as they careen dangerously over craters that can't be avoided.

That's why at the time of the annual Spring break up, motorists seek out concrete roads—where they know there will be no "closed," "detour," or "limited load" signs—and where every mile is smooth-riding and safe.

Wet or dry, day or night, year in and year out, concrete is the safest pavement known to engineering science.

Costly? Not concrete! Concrete pavement actually costs less to build than other pavements designed for the same traffic. Concrete lasts years longer, costs less to maintain. Result: low annual cost to you the taxpayer.

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT. Howard Lauffenburger (l.), vice president, accepts a certificate of merit from Hank Galloway, safety engineer of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance company, on behalf of the Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron company of Warren during a plant meeting of employees Monday.

The company is one of 38 in the state to receive this plaque for having 200,000 manhours without a disabling injury. From the period of February 4 to September 2 of 1955 Pennsylvania Furnace accumulated 236,160 manhours.

In addressing the group, Mr. Galloway congratulated the employees for the effort they have made to work safely and mentioned the interest the company takes in providing a safe working place.

SAFETY COMMITTEE. The safety committee at Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron company that played a role in the safety award received by the employees Monday are (l. to r.) Merl Dahle, Leland Rasmussen, Virgil Palmer, David Levine, personnel manager, John Dietsch, and Raymond Barner.

SEVENTH GRADE HISTORY students from Beaty Junior high school were visitors at the Warren Printing Co. last week. The class, instructed by Anthony Papalia, posed for this picture outside the Observer office before returning to the classroom.

"FIGHT CANCER WITH A CHECK-UP and a Check" is the 1956 slogan being used by the Warren County unit of the American Cancer Society in its drive for funds during April. This window in the Metzger Wright store on Second ave. warns you of the "dangers" of the disease. Help in the local drive to raise $10,000 for this fight against cancer by mailing your contribution today.

DOG TRAINING ENDS

To protect nesting birds and other young animals in the spring, hunters are not allowed to train their dogs in the field after April 1. This ban will last until August 1, when it is believed that most animals are big enough to take care of themselves. *

250 MILLION TREES

When Pennsylvania observed Arbor Day, Monday, it was marking the planting of 250 million seedlings since the day was first observed at the request of Governor Robert E. Pattison, in 1885. These seedlings have been raised by the Department of Forests and Waters and have been distributed at small cost to private land owners for reforestation and the prevention of soil erosion. *

PROTECTOR SCHOOL

If you want to be a Pennsylvania game protector the eighth class of student officers will be starting its schooling on June 30, at the Game Commission school which is located in Jefferson county near Brockway. To be eligible you must be a deputy game protector or have an educational background or training equal to a four-year course in wildlife management or forestry.

An examination will be given June 2. Eligible applicants will be notified concerning the time and place. Brochures explaining the job, and applications may be obtained by writing the Pennsylvania Game Commission, Harrisburg. Twenty will be selected following the examination. *

YOUR FOREST RANGER

Larry Stotz

The normal spring fire season, on the Allegheny National Forest, has been delayed by late spring snowfalls which still blanket the plateau and the north facing slopes.

As long as there is snow on the ground "PREVENT FOREST FIRES" seems like an empty slogan, but the ease with which a warm sun and wind can remove all vestiges of snow, and dry out the ground cover on a south facing slope, has too often been ignored by the rubbish burner so we have the phenomenon of a spring forest fire on a south facing slope while, only a short distance away, a north facing slope is still covered with snow.

Many of our early spring forest fires occur because people fail to realize how quickly and thoroughly a steep hillside exposed to the sun and wind can carry a fire. Although these hillsides reach their driest condition in mid-afternoon, they become dangerous by 10:00 o'clock in the morning. Leaves that are damp with dew at 9:00 A.M. may become tinder dry an hour later.

Spring house-cleaning seems to coincide with the spring fire season, and the good housewife has an irresistible urge to promptly dispose of the trash that has accumulated in cellar and attic during the long winter. What better method of getting rid of it once and for all than burning it? And so not realizing that the rubbish fire she starts at the bottom of the slope, may in a few minutes become the start of a forest fire at the top of the slope, after the flames roar up the dry grassy stretch between, she touches a match to her rubbish and goes back into the house.

By the time all of the smoke and excitement have died away, and the fire has been stopped, her little rubbish fire has crossed several property lines and ended up on national forest timber land involving in its travels the local fire department, the Department of Forests & Waters, which is responsible for fire suppression on private land, and the U. S. Forest Service which is responsible for the protection of national forest land.

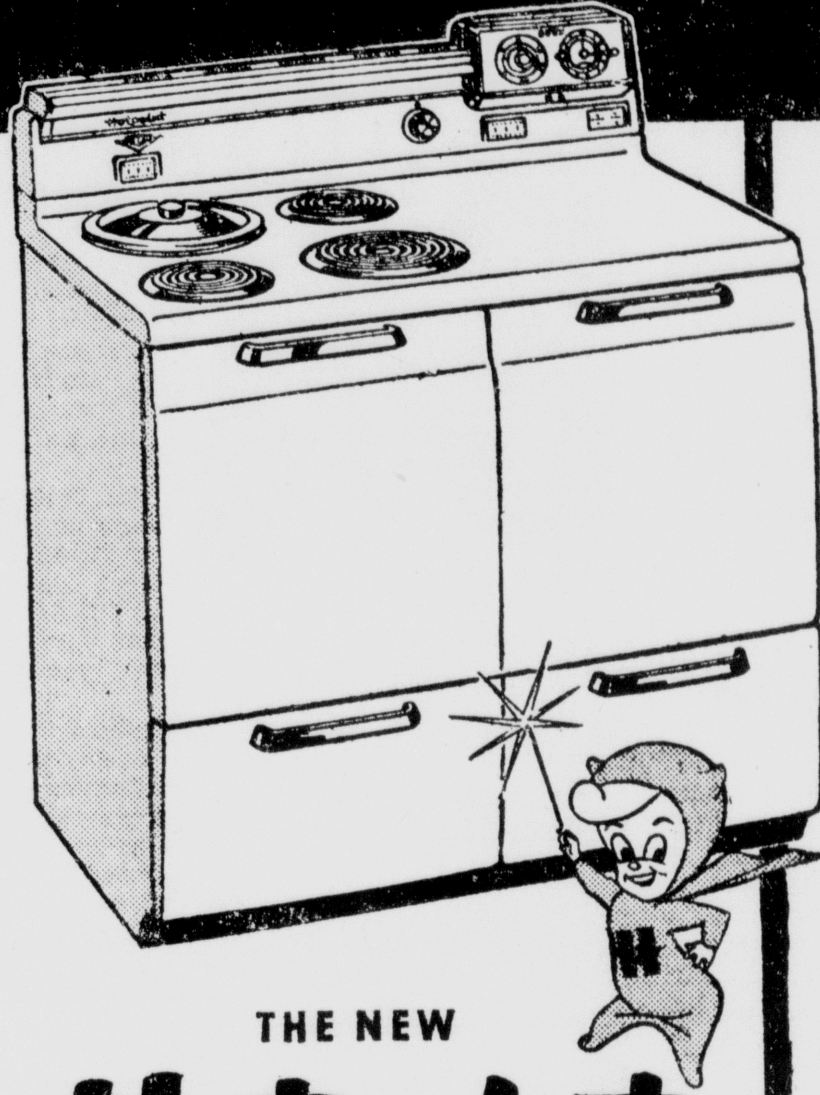

Perhaps a common failure in our fire prevention efforts is that we urge the public to "PREVENT FOREST FIRES" without placing enough emphasis on how they can prevent them.

Since the rubbish burner is one of the greatest causes of early spring forest and grass fires the following simple precautions are for the benefit of those people who have the urge to dispose of trash in this manner during the spring and fall fire seasons.

1. Use an approved type of incinerator for all ordinary trash burning purposes. Avoid the wide open mesh screen type since bits of burning paper and hot sparks can get away and spread fire.
2. Never burn when the wind is blowing.
3. Burn either early in the morning or late in the evening, and preferably in the late evening.
4. When disposing of material too large to burn in the incinerator use the following precautions:
 - a. Have a fire line down to mineral soil around the burning site.
 - b. Keep rubbish fires small. If you have a large amount of rubbish to dispose of do not set it all on fire at once.
 - c. Be sure that the fire is dead out by dousing the coals with plenty of water before leaving it.
 - d. When in doubt about whether or not it is safe to burn phone the nearest fire lookout tower or the ranger station at Sheffield or Marienville.
 - e. Remember you are liable for any damages sustained by your neighbor from a fire that gets away from you.

Clean Politics Wanted

By Doris Fleeson

WASHINGTON -- Democrats believe they have a simple, straightforward answer to the problem of raising political campaign funds from the people rather than the interests.

It is to give the taxpayer a straight-out income tax credit for campaign contributions not to exceed $10 per taxpayer. The mechanics are simple.

The party which received a campaign contribution of $10 or less from a taxpayer would give him a receipt for it in a prescribed form. He could then subtract that amount from his income tax, attaching the receipt as proof of his donation.

No news bureaucracy would be involved and the figuring necessary would be reduced to the absolute minimum. It would hit practically everyone who now pays income tax, but in a painless, even attractive, fashion.

Legislation to put the plan into effect is in the drafting stage at the Capitol. It must be started in the House, where revenue measures constitutionally originate. Rep. Wilbur Mills, ranking Democrat on the Revenue Committee, Ways and Means, has agreed to sponsor it. He and Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, also a Ways and Means Committeeman, have been promoting among their colleagues and report that the response is enthusiastic.

Speaker Rayburn and Senate Majority Leader Johnson were consulted from the start. Senator Johnson is understood to have talked to his opposite number, Senator Knowland of California, about bipartisan sponsorship and to have received hospitable attention.

Democrats say they would be only too glad to join with Republicans to pass such legislation. But whether the GOP likes the idea or not, it will be pressed.

The reason is obvious. The Democrats are crying the money blues. They are starting to raise funds with $100 a plate Woodrow Wilson dinners this month but they have no hope, even with the help of the unions, of overtaking the richly endowed Republican National Committee.

Unions incidentally have been so preoccupied with the AFL-CIO merger they have been slow to get their usual political activities underway. A new committee for political education is about to get off the ground now.

The proposal is well-timed, coming as it does on the heels of the Senate attack on the natural gas lobby for "improper and possibly illegal" campaign gifts. Activities of two lawyers for the Superior Oil Co. were condemned as "irresponsibility run riot."

Proposals for cleaner elections are already on the calendar as a result of the gas lobby disclosures. It has not yet been decided whether to attach the new $10 tax credit plan to one of these election bills or whether to make it an entirely separate piece of legislation.

MISS FBLA OF WARREN HIGH is Joann Compher. She is pictured here with the judges who made the selection from among six candidates at the high school Monday. The judges are Jack Blair of the New Process Co., Gerald Huber, chairman, of the Warren National Bank, and Chet Christensen of Sylvania Electric Products.

CANDIDATES for Miss FBLA of Warren high school were (l. to r.) front -- Carol Briggs, Marga Morrison and Patti Zaffino; back -- Gayle Nosel, Toula Fanos, Joann Compher and Bonnie Tremblay, chairman of the contest. The judging took place at the high school Monday morning.

TE LA DI O

TV HITS BACK

A television editor this week slapped back at those who criticize tv for giving a big play to violence. A trade magazine carries a picture of a page from Readers Digest on which is the lead of an article which is taken from Parents' magazine. It deplores the many killings on TV.

On another page in the same issue, says the editor of Broadcasting and Television, the Digest plugs its own tv programs which involve many crime dramas. It also suggests that if you haven't been watching its tv Reader's Digest you have been missing a thrill.

MAD BOWLERS

Maddest tv viewers in the area last Saturday were the bowling fans who have been developed through weeks of match-game telecasts on Saturday afternoons. All set to see Buddy Bomar and Sporando square off, they had to watch a practice baseball game.

It is difficult for the run of sports writers and program directors to get it through their heads that America has become a participation nation. It has developed a major interest in sports which the average man and woman can play as well as watch.

It reminds us of the sports announcers who insist on telling us how the Giant B team made out against the Peoria Wildcats, while good local or current national sport news goes begging for time and space.

But we understand that there is a slim chance that the bowling will be seen on WBEN at 4:30 this coming Saturday, if another pair of ball teams finish their practicing early enough.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE

The Game of the Week baseball schedule for this season, which will be seen over at least two area channels, reads this way:

April 7 - Indians vs. Giants, 2:25.
April 14 - Giants vs. Dodgers, 1:55.
April 21 - Red Sox vs. Yankees, 1:55.
April 28 - Dodgers vs. Pirates, 1:55.

May 5 - Tigers vs. Red Sox, 1:55.
May 12 - Giants vs. Dodgers, 1:55.
May 19 - Yankees vs. White Sox, 2:25.
May 26 - Dodgers vs. Giants, 1:55.

June 2 - Tigers vs. Yankees, 1:55.
June 9 - Dodgers vs. Redlegs, 2:25.

June 16 - Dodgers vs. Braves, 1:55.
June 23 - White Sox vs. Yankees, 2:55.
June 30 - Dodgers vs. Phillies, 1:55.

July 7 - Tigers vs. White Sox, 2:25.
July 14 - Indians vs. Yankees, 1:55.
July 21 - Tigers vs. Red Sox, 1:55.
July 28 - Giants vs. Cardinals, 1:55.

August 4 - Red Sox vs. Indians, 1:55.
August 11 - Phillies vs. Dodgers, 1:55.
August 18 - Tigers vs. White Sox, 2:25.
August 25 - White Sox vs. Yankees, 1:55.

September 1 - Dodgers vs. Giants, 1:55.
September 8 - White Sox vs. Indians, 1:55.
September 15 - Dodgers vs. Cubs, 1:55.
September 22 - Yankees vs. Red Sox, 1:55.
September 29 - Yankees vs. Red Sox, 1:55.

GOLF SERIES

Our reference to spectator sports popularity reminds us of the Jimmy Demaret Show which will be debuted on KDKA, April 21, at 7:45. It will offer help to golfers and will include many famous personalities who play the game, such as Bob Hope, Jerry Colonna, Bing Crosby, Sam Snead, and leading golfers, ranging from Bobby Jones to Gene Sarazen. Gene, in case you forget, or never knew, once was the pro at Titusville's country club.

FULL TIME COLOR

Color tv is fighting its way into predominance. A Chicago station is producing all of its local shows in color, and of course adds the network shows, to give its viewers about 7 hours of color a day. We believe it starts the policy Sunday. It will be heralded on NBC's Wide, Wide World program, with 110 stations hooking on. The station is WNBQ.

TEEN-AGE POLL

The March leaders in the poll taken by WGR of its 2,000 teen-age Dance Party members reveals the following favorites:

Favorite record, Eddie My Love, not on the list last month, and replacing No. Not Much, which slipped to fourth.

Favorite girl singer, Teresa Brewer, up from fourth, and replacing Gale Storm who dropped to fourth.

Favorite boy singer, Pat Boone, first for second month. Perry Como, once a first, continues in second.

Favorite band, Glenn Miller for third month.

Vocal group, The Four Lads; Movie Actress, Debbie Reynolds; Movie actor, Tony Curtis, up from second, dropping Rock Hudson to second.

DEPENDS ON WHO SAYS IT

A speech made by Ernest Jones, advertising agency official, to the Pittsburgh council of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, reads mighty different in the various trade magazines. The newspaper magazines report him as saying that tv lacks effectiveness. The tv and radio reporters say he simply said that tv is not the entire package.

Obviously he was critical of radio and tv, and the weaknesses that are showing, especially when it comes to moving durable goods. As an official in an agency that has sponsored such programs as Wide, Wide World, Medic, Richard III, Arthur Godfrey, Dave Garroway, and others for such clients as Cadillac, Pontiac, Dow Chemical, and Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing, he raised quite a stir.

In short, he said, "the public's honeymoon with television is over." He praised tv for moving package goods, the kind that is bought by the small pocketbook. However, for durable goods he said it was well behind newspapers and magazines.

But he said his firm would go on using tv, as a tool and not the whole kit.

DIAL SPINS

OUR APPEAL for a show of hands concerning Pittsburgh and Altoona, resulted in one call. That gentleman stated he preferred to have Altoona on his line. What we really wanted to know was which schedule was wanted in the paper. Right now we are giving you both and may continue to do so.

BIG TEN football games will be put on film with highlights of four or five games, and shown within twenty-four hours next fall. This is one way of getting around the collegiate tv restrictions.

FOUR TO THREE. The Four girls will be The Three Girls on WBEN this evening. Rhonda Fleming will not appear.

A TALENT ROUND-UP is planned by Walt Disney this spring with boys and girls from five to fourteen wanted. There will be local auditions in selected cities and regional junior spectaculars. Those finally selected will be flown to Hollywood for appearances on ABC's Mickey Mouse Club, and those showing exceptional talent may end up as permanent members of the Mouseketeers. The national winners also will be special guests at Disneyland park.

SINCLAIR LEWIS' famous "Dodsworth" is scheduled as the feature on "Producers Showcase" on April 30. The WGR-RV - NBC-TV spectacular will star Fredric March. March will star in the role created on the stage by Walter Huston. Claire Trevor is scheduled to play opposite March.

IT IS HARD TO BELIEVE that the long-time Junior Champion, Howdy Doody could be threatened by a mouse but word has come from New York that the Bob Smith opus is being shoved out of its long-time 5:30-6:00 o'clock berth. "Howdy Doody" is scheduled to become a morning show on the network next season. "Howdy Doody" has been in the 5:30-6:00 P.M. period on NBC since August of 1948.

DOTS AND DASHES The puppet character of "Grover" introduced by Stan Freberg on the "NBC Comedy Hour" and which, as a matter of fact, has been the only hit on the recent series, is point of contention in a legal hassle with NBC and Freberg named as defendants in a $2,000,000 suit brought by Bob Clampett. Clampett charged that Freberg's "Grover" is an imitation of Clampett's long-time puppet character, "Cecil, the Sea Sick Serpent".

BUYERS' CORNER

ALWAYS WELCOME
New ideas always are welcome in this fast-moving era of competitive production. Maybe you have seen the Delbags, a streamlined, combination bag for milady. They get their name from a former Warren girl whose first name is Delpha. She is the wife of Stan Gebhardt. They now live in Texas, where Mrs. Gebhardt, who was Delpha Nelson before her marriage, is a buyer. She came up with the bag idea and a manufacturer produced them, using her name.

FAMILY FARMS VALUABLE
The value of family farms in Warren county now averages $14,000, according to Francis Artley, county supervisor of the FHA. The increased cost of machinery and farm development has jumped their value, he says. Family farms are those on which no one works except the immediate family, except in certain seasons. The average values are important because they determine farm loan limits.

NOT A CURE
Only temporary relief from minor aches and pains caused by arthritis and rheumatism can be obtained from the use of Kordolin Tablets, says the FTC, and the makers have been told to stop saying otherwise in their advertising. The examiner has ruled that Kordolin is not a new discovery, is no more effective than asperin, and has no therapeutic effect on the underlying causes of these diseases.

ALSO NO CURE
The above reminds uf of an example which supports our recommendations of the Wall Street Journal as a medium of literature that is far from dry and very much filled with facts that should be of interest to anyone who enjoys reading. Taking just one front page of the Journal, and from a copy that today is a full week old, we note the following facts among many:
The Food and Drug Administration has said that the Hoxsey treatment for cancer is "worthless". This is a new step for this government group and causes us to wonder what it has been doing for the thirty years in which Harry M. Hoxsey has operated his clinic.
It still is our contention that we should require the approval of a drug, medicine, or method of treatment before it is used, and not after. You must take an examination and buy a license before you can drive a car. This is done to protect others. Why should not the same apply to those who make and sell medicine?

The same Journal front page reported that there is a shortage of civil service workers. Applicants for civil service examinations are not meeting demand in some areas, such as St. Louis. If you are looking for a change, and a job with permanence, this might be worth your attention.

And the Journal predicted that all cars made by Chrysler in 1957 will have torsion bar suspension. This new kind of ride was introduced by Packard. It will be on all models, including the Plymouth.

PAYS $3,000 FINE
A firm which sells coin-operated radios has paid for failing to stop false claims as ordered by the FTC last February. Coradio, Inc., has claimed exclusive territories for distributors, unfounded guarantees, low rate insurance, and that it makes the radios. The firm settled it out of court with a civil penalty payment of $3,000.

SPALDING DENIES CHARGE
The A. G. Spalding and Brothers firm has denied that its acquisition of Rawlings Manufacturing Co., violates the anti-merger law. It was so charged by the FTC last December when it was claimed the two firms manufacture or distribute similar sporting goods and have helped to create a monopoly and reduce competition.
The complaint said that in 1954 Spalding sold $23 million worth of sporting goods, and Rawlings sold over $10 million worth. The defendant says these figures are wrong, and that Spalding did a business of $18,783,639, while Rawlings had sales amounting to $8,282,505.

MERGER CHARGED
Substantial lessening of competition in the manufacture of safety and common pins has been charged against Scovill Mfg. Co., which has bought the DeLong Hook and Eye Co. In 1954 Scovill did a $110 million business, of which $3 1/3 million was in pins. DeLong did a $2 million business, of which $777,000 was in pins. It is charged that Scovill has eliminated one of its major competitors through this purchase.

PHONY APPROACH
Residents of Warren this week received a direct mail approach from a health insurance firm which obviously was based on a misleading statement. It stated that the recipient and his family had been checked by the company and that the company had discovered the family could benefit from the new protection plan.
This personal touch, which even refers to a check in the card that is red-lined and is supposed to prove that such a check-up has been made, is very apt to open the door. Many certainly will be convinced that it is so.
We would not say that this is a bad insurance, but we always believe in a very close squint at an offer which is introduced by a statement that obviously is untrue.
For example, one card in the letter says that the person named at the right is O.K. to receive free information about the kind of health insurance which is now available to preferred families.
We know of one case in which the man named must have been very eligible for a new kind of health insurance. The gentleman had been dead for eight years.

BUYERS' CORNER

ALWAYS WELCOME

New ideas always are welcome in this fast-moving era of competitive production. Maybe you have seen the Delbags, a streamlined, combination bag for milady. They get their name from a former Warren girl whose first name is Delpha.

She is the wife of Stan Gebhardt. They now live in Texas, where Mrs. Gebhardt, who was Delpha Nelson before her marriage, is a buyer. She came up with the bag idea and a manufacturer produced them, using her name.

FAMILY FARMS VALUABLE

The value of family farms in Warren county now averages $14,000, according to Francis Artley, county supervisor of the FHA. The increased cost of machinery and farm development has jumped their value, he says. Family farms are those on which no one works except the immediate family, except in certain seasons. The average values are important because they determine farm loan limits.

NOT A CURE

Only temporary relief from minor aches and pains caused by arthritis and rheumatism can be obtained from the use of Kordolin Tablets, says the FTC, and the makers have been told to stop saying otherwise in their advertising. The examiner has ruled that Kordolin is not a new discovery, is no more effective than aspirin, and has no therapeutic effect on the underlying causes of these diseases.

ALSO NO CURE

The above reminds uf of an example which supports our recommendations of the Wall Street Journal as a medium of literature that is far from dry and very much filled with facts that should be of interest to anyone who enjoys reading. Taking just one front page of the Journal, and from a copy that today is a full week old, we note the following facts among many:

The Food and Drug Administration has said that the Hoxsey treatment for cancer is "worthless". This is a new step for this government group and causes us to wonder what it has been doing for the thirty years in which Harry M. Hoxsey has operated his clinic.

It still is our contention that we should require the approval of a drug, medicine, or method of treatment before it is used, and not after. You must take an examination and buy a license before you can drive a car. This is done to protect others. Why should not the same apply to those who make and sell medicine?

The same Journal front page reported that there is a shortage of civil service workers. Applicants for civil service examinations are not meeting demand in some areas, such as St. Louis. If you are looking for a change, and a job with permanence, this might be worth your attention.

And the Journal predicted that all cars made by Chrysler in 1957 will have torsion bar suspension. This new kind of ride was introduced by Packard. It will be on all models, including the Plymouth.

PAYS $3,000 FINE

A firm which sells coin-operated radios has paid for failing to stop false claims as ordered by the FTC last February. Coradio, Inc., has claimed exclusive territories for distributors, unfounded guarantees, low rate insurance, and that it makes the radios. The firm settled it out of court with a civil penalty payment of $3,000.

SPALDING DENIES CHARGE

The A. G. Spalding and Brothers firm has denied that its acquisition of Rawlings Manufacturing Co., violates the anti-merger law. It was so charged by the FTC last December when it was claimed the two firms manufacture or distribute similar sporting goods and have helped to create a monopoly and reduce competition.

The complaint said that in 1954 Spalding sold $23 million worth of sporting goods, and Rawlings sold over $10 million worth. The defendant says these figures are wrong, and that Spalding did a business of $18,783,639, while Rawlings had sales amounting to $8,282,505.

MERGER CHARGED

Substantial lessening of competition in the manufacture of safety and common pins has been charged against Scovill Mfg. Co., which has bought the DeLong Hook and Eye Co. In 1954 Scovill did a $110 million business, of which $3 1/3 million was in pins. DeLong did a $2 million business, of which $777,000 was in pins. It is charged that Scovill has eliminated one of its major competitors through this purchase.

PHONY APPROACH

Residents of Warren this week received a direct mail approach from a health insurance firm which obviously was based on a misleading statement. It stated that the recipient and his family had been checked by the company and that the company had discovered the family could benefit from the new protection plan.

This personal touch, which even refers to a check in the card that is red-lined and is supposed to prove that such a check-up has been made, is very apt to open the door. Many certainly will be convinced that it is so.

We would not say that this is a bad insurance, but we always believe in a very close squint at an offer which is introduced by a statement that obviously is untrue.

For example, one card in the letter says that the person named at the right is O.K. to receive free information about the kind of health insurance which is now available to preferred families.

We know of one case in which the man named must have been very eligible for a new kind of health insurance. The gentleman had been dead for eight years.

THREE MEMBERS of the Pitt Players, (l. to r.) Jay Dantry, Eleanor Chima, and John Jay, will appear in their presentation of "Pygmalion" in Beaty auditorium on Monday, April 30, at 8 p. m.

BROKEN LEG. John Rix, of West st., Warren, cares for a deer with a broken right back leg. The game warden was called and the deer probably was shot.

THEY FOUND IT. Butch Dahl and Larry Whitton found this injured deer in the Quaker hill area, just outside of Warren. It had a broken back leg. The game warden took over.

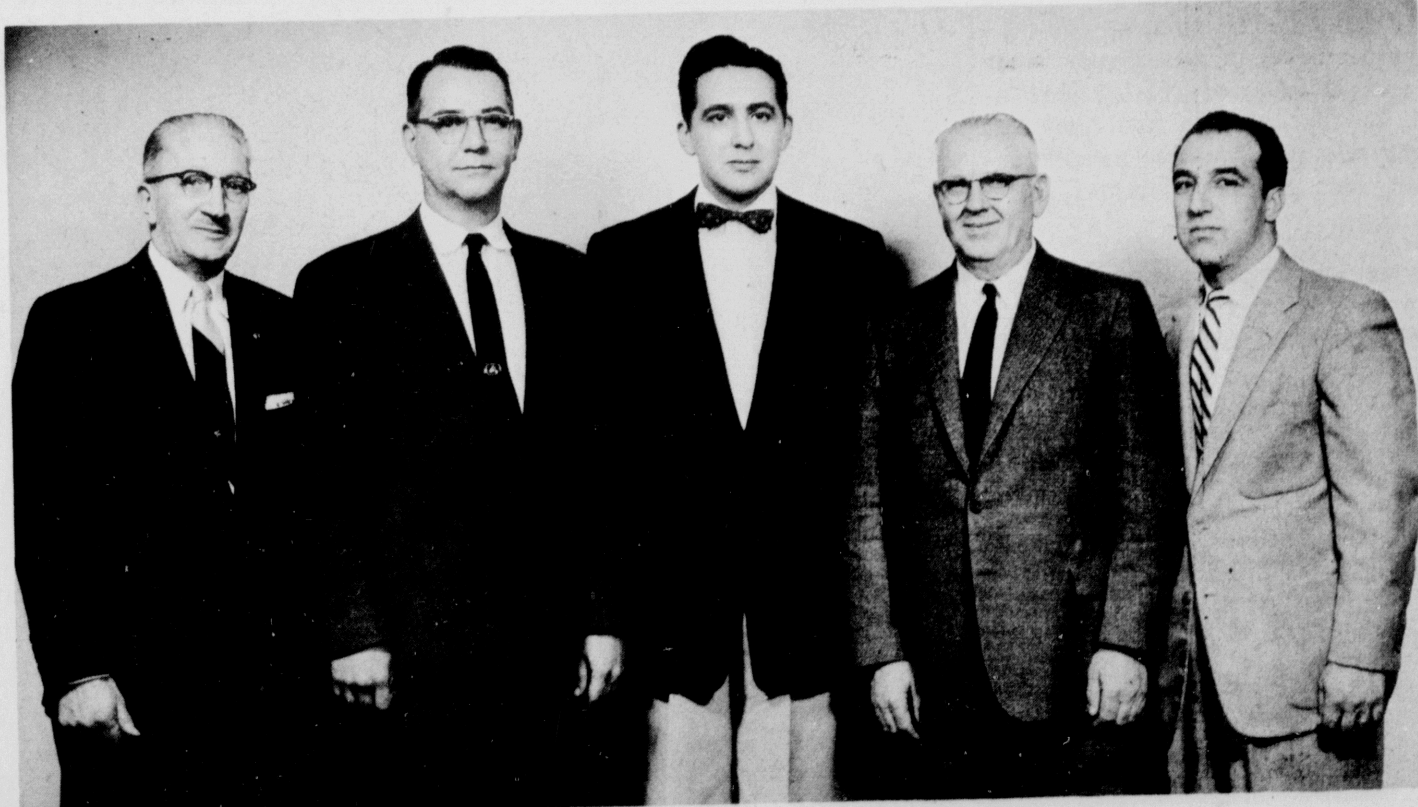

JAYCEE CONCERT SERIES co-chairmen for the 1956-57 season are Dr. Lawrence Krespan (l.) and Gerald Huber.

HOME DELIVERY. The Warren Observer this week starts delivering the paper to your door. Though many boys have been signed as potential carriers, only a few are being started until the Observer's circulation's staff is satisfied that the system planned is efficient. Three of the first group of boys are seen above, Jimmy Brindis, Remi Allen, and Ralph Caldin.

QUALIFIED AS MEMBERS of the Baltimore Life Insurance company Honor Club for 1955 are (l. to r.) Robert Morrison, agent; Harry M. Thomas, district manager of Erie; Anthony Cerando, staff superintendent; Val Flaherty, of Corry; and Joseph Bruto, representing the Warren office. Also qualifying was Herbert Brunner of Corry. These men, among top producers of the company, will attend, with their wives, the Honor Club week end at the Hotel Chamberlain, Fort Monroe, Va., April 16 to 18. This event is sponsored annually by the firm to reward its best salesmen, who meet or surpass their quota.

BOWLING

THE WINNERS

Check Brothers were leading the Warren Bowling association team event when that division of the tournament closed this week. They had 3079 in the handicap race and 2818 scratch. The straight score is worth $20 from the Observer.

Next come Dairy Queen, 3007; Means Lumber, 2963; Saron Lutheran, 2892; New Process Shipping, 2883; Youngsville E.U.B., 2876; St. Francis, 2864; Style Shop, 2845; Hanna Motors, 2852; Red Top, 2851, and Powerful, 2849.

Bertha Knupp won the 200 Club handicap tournament, Sunday, at the Penn, with 755, which was worth $17.40. Joan Shetty was second with 746. Betty Gray was third with 739, Stella Cerra and Georgia Bonavita tied at 734.

Best score bowled by the many Warren teams visiting the ABC tournament was an even 2700 posted by Paulmar Restaurant, composed of Myer Pappalardo, 535; Frank Gerardi, 551; Dr. James Giunta, 553; Paul Coppola, 504, and Pete Juliano, 557.

Most of the boys reported the pins falling best for soft balls, few of which are handled by Warren keglers. The good hits were not paying off, with light pins sailing off into space and doing little work.

Myer Pappalardo got 604 in the singles, and we understand one of the Zandi boys of Sheffield hit about 630. Dave Fink and Frank Gerardi hit 1105 in the doubles, and Pete and Myer had 1103.

Myer totaled 1719 in the all events. Dave totaled 1711. It was a good week for Dave. He immediately went to Jamestown and rolled 1181 in the Ten Pin sweeps.

ON TELEVISION Sunday will be seen the great Budweiser team, which leads the nation's scoring with 3729. They will be on WJAC at 6:30. On Monday they are scheduled for WBEN at 10:30.

LEAGUE ACTION

Lou Chimenti had a neat 232, 267 and 665 in the City league to lead the week's scoring. Paul Coppola shot 235 and 617, and Glenn Grosch posted 255 and 613 in the City.

The Exchange Hotel took the Commercial second half, with Louie Vescio rolling 623, Chub Brown, 619, and John Randinelli, 604. Busty Pintagro topped the Merchants with 601.

Other leaders included: Richard McClement in the Junior Industrial with 571; Sam Gerardi, 567 in the National K of C, Fritz Rieder, 557 in the Exservicemen's, Bill Brown, 538 in the Shop, George Larson, 530 in the Sylvania, Sam Gerardi, 504 in the American K of C, and Clair Trembley, 470 in the Junior.

THE LADIES

Vi Sterling had 205 and 548 to pace Valones to a 2302 to 2182 victory over Virg Ann to take the City league honors. Joan Shetty led Virg-Ann with 205 and 523.

Janet Mellander led the Class C with 505, Ruth Daelhausen topped Automotive with 482, and Millie Sowers led Peg's with 463. The Style Shop and Steins will roll off for the Peg crown next Wednesday.

Bill Lohnes with 548 and Vivian Grosch with 521 led the Friday mixed league. Vern Zellefrow with 475 and Marion Day with 379 paced the Metzger Wright circuit.

PICTURE BOWLER. Joe Kristor was one of the big names who filled up most of a squad in the Ten Pins sweeps at Jamestown, Friday night. Joe's form is about as perfect as you will find. He hit 1202 for second best on the squad which was led by Tom Hennessy with 1229. Hennessy, a member of the Stroh team, is shifting to the Budweiser line-up. Leading the tournament is George Young, of Detroit, with 1293.

PACKED. The interest in bowling as a spectator sport was indicated again Friday when the Ten Pins lanes were jammed with fans who came to watch a squad of big names perform in the sweeps. However,

Dave Fink of Warren caught a big share of the attention as he finished fourth among kegling giants like Fazio, Nagy, and others. Dave had 1181, with far too many taps. The crowd soon recognized his talents and was with him all the way. He was headed only by Hennessy, Kristor, and an Erie boy, Cerami. The sweeps have a prize fund totaling $19,000.

THOUSANDS CROWD MONTGOMERY WARD. Ward Week got off to a crowding start as literally thousands jostled their way to the counters to share in the savings provided by the management. Lunch was served to sustain the hungry customers and to encourage more shopping.

At 9 p. m. on Tuesday evening Miss Sallie Haley, of Youngsville, drew the winning tickets for the door prizes. The winners are listed elsewhere in this issue. Other important members of the personnel in this picture are (left and right) Detmer Stalker, asst. manager, and Joseph Krimmel, local manager.

CARROLL FOWLER, director of vocal music in Warren high school, will be in St. Louis, Missouri, Friday for the biennial convention of the Music Educators National conference. The convention, which commemorates the 50th anniversary of the organization, lasts a week. During this time music teachers from the entire nation will attend sessions planned to promote better teaching of school music.

Five of the ten contests will be staged at home.

The cage schedule as released now has 22 games on the slate with better than half to be played in Warren. Opposition will be provided by Erie Academy, Kane, Jamestown, Alumni, Meadville, Sheffield, Franklin, Bradford, Corry, Oil City, and Titusville. Back on the schedule after a lapse of several years is Youngsville.

Ten dual meets have been arranged for the Blue and White wrestlers. They are two with Oil City, and lone matches with DuBois, Clearfield, Gowanda, Titusville, St. Marys, Greenville, Redbank and Erie East.

TRACK MEET POSTPONED

Because of unsuitable track conditions, Warren high's opening meet scheduled with Youngsville on the Beaty oval Friday has been postponed to May 11.

The wet weather and last week's high water that partially covered Beaty field has prevented the school from getting the site in proper condition for the track and field event Friday.

The change in weather this week did, however, give Coach Loyal Briggs' thinclads the opportunity to take part in their first real outdoor workout. Prior to this time the Dragons have been forced to confine their outside activity to a few laps around the track with no practice of field events.

SWING TIME

That bite which causes legs paralyzed by weeks of sitting to yearn for soft turf, and sends eager hands into dark corners in search of weapons, is inflicted by the golf-bacteraemupis, and it isn't hard to find some these days.

In fact, Warren golfers already have signed up a new opponent.

Titusville wants to cross drives, and will feed and be red as a part of the bargain. This may mean six matches for the Warren team.

And the driving range will bust into light, Friday night, with Bill Simonsen and son letting someone else take in the money. They are busy with insurance.

Games will be played on two diamonds, the West Side and War Memorial Field. Each time will play one game of each round in Sheffield.

THANK YOU WARREN AND VICINITY

Dear Customers and Friends:
Again we say thank you Warren and surrounding area. It is our anniversary! Just eight years ago Warren Furs was started.

This one letter we delight in writing to you, we really mean it. From the very first day you people have been supporting us 100 percent. Through the past eight years Warren and area customers have been very faithful and by being faithful have made it possible for us to progress rapidly.

We have the finest buying house with top experienced personnel in New York scanning the New York and Paris markets. Then they go on to other markets and cities in Europe always looking for something different and are the first to ship to their respective stores at the right prices.

Our tie in with some of the largest and most reliable furriers in the United States has given us style and price that cannot be duplicated except in the metropolitan areas - and there you will find the same thing from the same manufacturers.

Since the early days, we have been able to move into our new location and have our own vault with which to better serve you. You have made it possible, in every way, for us to grow by having given us our first BIG PUSH.

We are now starting our Fur Storage and Repair Season and solicit your continued patronage. You will again be well served. Thank you for your past business.

Yours very truly,
Robert H. Werner

Social Security Debate

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON -- The re-convening of Congress after its Easter recess brings Social Security forward as a major issue with Senate Democrats. They will stress it in their drive, between now and summer adjournment for the national conventions, to recoup from the early and somewhat ineffectual months of this pre-election session.

Their battle will revolve specifically about the bill passed by the House last session which would lower the age at which women become eligible for old age pensions from 65 -- which now applies to both sexes -- to 62 and which also would authorize benefits to the totally disabled to begin at 50 years of age instead of 65, as now.

Democrats have chosen to concentrate upon Social Security as their chief social welfare objective in this election year for a number of reasons, high among them being that they can draw a clear line with the Eisenhower Administration which opposes this measure and took a strong stand against it through Marion B. Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, in Senate Finance Committee hearings recently completed.

Another reason Democrats have picked the Social Security issue is because of divisions within the party over other social welfare objectives. In the case of the school construction bill, a party split between North and South over integration has that stymied. In the case of extension of coverage of the Minimum Wage law, a part of the Eisenhower program, as well as in the case of revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law, action is blocked by Southern Democratic conservatives under leadership of Rep. Graham A. Barden (D., N. C.), Chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, who has kept the bills on those subjects pigeon-holed.

Social Security also is potent issue for Democratic members of Congress up for re-election. This is illustrated perhaps most pointedly and dramatically in the case of Senator Walter F. George (D., Ga.), who faces tough opposition in former Governor Herman Talmadge. The one-time conservative Georgia Senator is calling insistently for action and protesting that the Administration is trying to bottle up the Social Security bill in the Senate Finance Committee. Fortunately, Senator George is a member of that committee, in fact ranking Democratic member, and formerly was its chairman. He would go much further than the bill passed by the House. He is sponsoring amendments jointly with Senator Russell Long (D., La.) to boost present old age assistance payments for an average increase of $6 a month and also is advocating complete removal of all age restrictions on benefits for total disability. He argues that disability before the age of 50 is just as serious a matter as after that age.

The campaign for the Social Security revision bill is being vigorously promoted also by the two active Democratic candidates for the party's Presidential nomination -- Adlai Stevenson and Senator Estes Kefauver. They face each other in crucial primary tests in two states where many elderly people interested in Social Security constitute a formidable voting bloc -- Florida and California, which hold Presidential primaries on May 29 and June 5, respectively. Both are making the measure an issue with the Eisenhower Administration.

Organized labor, which is backing Democrats in the fight for Social Security revision, is making much of the fact that Sec. Folsom, who now opposes on behalf of the Administration a reduction of the eligibility age for women to 62, went on record in 1949 in favor of lowering the age from 65 to 60. That he did, in truth, as a member of a citizens advisory council on Social Security set up to advise the Senate Finance Committee.

The explanation of Sec. Folsom, who was a pioneer in private social security plans for industry which he introduced in Eastman Kodak Company and also helped to draft the original Federal Social Security Law of 1935, is that he was for lowering the age seven years ago because economists feared a recession and he felt that it would help to maintain employment if older women were removed from the labor market to make places for younger persons who would be out of jobs. Now, he says, the situation is entirely different because of prosperity and a consequent labor shortage. This could be met by older persons who, he contends, should be permitted to continue work at much higher earnings than old age pensions provide.

His opposition to lower ages for pension eligibility and for eligibility of totally disabled to benefits was sharply challenged by another recognized authority on Social Security, Dr. Arthur Altmeyer, who was like Sec. Folsom a pioneer in Social Security and was administrator of the Social Security Law here for many years during the Roosevelt and Truman Administrations. He pronounced the bill sound from every viewpoint.

Secretary Folsom and Republican Senators who support the Administration position are not the only obstacles in the way of final enactment of the measure. Democrats find one of their own in the way -- none other than the chairman of the Finance Committee, Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia. Once again, as with school, minimum wage and labor legislation, this illustrates how the Southern wing of the party has become a drag in making a record in the social welfare field.

POSSIBLE INTEGRATION of social security into the Pennsylvania State Employees Retirement system was discussed by Paul Baker (c.) at a meeting of the Independent association PLCB employees at Beatty auditorium Sunday afternoon. The guest speaker is chairman of the committee on retirement and social security of PLCB. With Mr. Baker here are Robert Brant (l.) of Titusville, state vice president of the association, and Lyle Schuler, president of the Warren-McKean-Potter counties chapter.

We Invite Factual Arguments Opposing The Kinzua Dam

Warren is faced with the major problem of recurring floods which do it much damage and easily could result in a great loss of life if the wrong combination of circumstances were to develop. We have been close to such a possibility several times. We were there on March 8 of this year!

This is a very serious business, and not one to be settled in a hysterical manner, nor to be fought between factions who for personal reasons are either for or against a specific kind of protection. All sane men with the least bit of civic stature want the best answer.

During the last war and shortly after it this editor became suspicious of many arguments that were being used to attack the Kinzua dam. He asked for facts from the army engineers, private engineers, and lobbyists. He bought complete sets of reports, and collected a file of papers concerning the river and its potentials.

He found many factual arguments to support the construction of the Kinzua dam. Close friends visited other areas and brought back movies of similar dams. He found nothing to support any one of the arguments used against the proposed structure up the river from Warren.

He also learned that every argument that has been used against the dam also had been used in other areas when such controls were being considered. In some areas these have proved effective and dams have been stopped. In others, wiser heads have prevailed and those who live in the protected areas today will tell you how pleased they are with the result.

Down through the years we have written over sixty articles in the Observer presenting what we have learned. We have broadcast such facts, and have written many columns and stories in other papers. Without success we have sought one strong argument that would support an alternative to the dam.

At the recent flood control meeting held in the Warren county court house it was stated by Harold Putnam that there are many in Warren and the Warren area who are opposed to the dam for reasons other than the fear that it might be an obstacle to navigation. Congressman Gavin immediately asked for such people to stand and to give such reasons.

Perhaps the temper of that gathering discouraged such debate. Perhaps those opposed to the dam, who may have felt strongly about it, preferred not to face a group which included many who suffered through recent floods and were anxious to see action and not talk. Or perhaps they were not present.

WE INVITE YOU

To them we say that the columns of the Observer are open to facts, figures, and technical proof that the dam is not a good idea. These columns will print sound arguments offered to prove there are better ways of controlling flood waters, while also protecting those below us, providing a healthy flow through summer months, and reducing the percentage of pollution while increasing the percentage of life-giving oxygen.

Type them plainly and sign them with your name. The Observer prefers to print nothing to which the author lacks the courage to sign his signature.

We will publish such arguments in full. They must stand up under the light of inspection in the printed word. We, of course, will offer counter arguments if we believe they are deserved. These also will be in print. It is for the reader, the local resident who will be affected, to decide.

We have been willing to expose our thinking to the light of day. We wish opponents of the dam would do the same.

We wish to make one thing very clear. The dam is not our pet project. We seek only the truth, and an answer that will do the most good for the most people. If there is truth to be uncovered, let's put it in print.

THANK YOU LETTER

Though we don't usually publish letters thanking us for doing what we consider to be the job of every newspaper, as well as every radio and tv news department, we have been asked to use the Warren Board of Health's expression of appreciation which we received last week. Because it includes many others, we are granting the request. Here it is:

April 3, 1956.

To: WNAE; Warren Times-Mirror;
 Warren Observer.

The Warren Board of Health submits the attached for your consideration.

Also, The Warren Board of Health wishes to take this opportunity to thank the radio and newspapers for the splendid co-operation given to us during the recent flood. We also wish to thank the State Sanitarians from the Bureau of Sanitation, State Department of Health; Mr. Fred Burden, Inspector from the Pure Food and Drug Chemistry, Bureau of Agriculture, State Department of Health; Mr. Irving Pollock, Inspector from the U. S. Food and Drug Administration, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D. C., and, last, but not least, the general public and all others who co-operated with us wholeheartedly. Due to the diligence of everyone Warren is indeed fortunate to have had no health problem. Our deep appreciation to all.

Courtesy can be contagious. If you go out of your way to give other drivers a break, you'll be surprised how soon you get more than your share of the same courtesy. It will help to take the strain out of highway driving . . . and even more important, it will save lives.

Slow down and live
